

November 12, 2014

Dear Woodstock Property Owner,

Did you know that you can go solar this season and save money doing it through the Solarize Pomfret-Woodstock program? Spearheaded by Sustainable Woodstock with coordination from local nonprofit Vital Communities, the program is designed to make it easy for homeowners to go solar by connecting them with trusted installers – CATAMOUNT SOLAR and INTEGRITY ENERGY – who offer deeper discounts as more households sign contracts by January 31.

Through community outreach that brings in a significant number of new installation jobs in a small geographic area, Catamount Solar and Integrity Energy can provide discounted, tiered pricing for new solar power systems sold in Woodstock before January 31, 2015. With the tiered-pricing format, the more systems that are sold, the lower the price goes for everyone who participates. Enclosed you will find a flyer with more information on how the program works, including example pricing details.

If you are thinking about adding solar power to your Vermont property, now is the perfect time to move forward. The Vermont Renewable Energy Rebate program will be ending December 31. Taking into account both the rebate and the discounted Solarize pricing, there will never be a better deal to go solar.

We're reaching out to you specifically as a second-home owner in Woodstock so we do not miss the opportunity to meet with you (we are available during the holiday weekends) when you may be in the Woodstock area between now and January 31, 2015. Should you have a local property management team, we would also be happy to speak with them. We are available to provide a free site evaluation and project quote to help you determine your solar potential and take advantage this great offer.

Please feel free to contact us with your questions or to schedule a site visit. We're at SOLARIZEPW@CATAMOUNTSOLAR.COM OR CALL 802-728-3600. You'll also find all the program details and helpful resources at VitalCommunities.org/Solarize/Woodstock.

We look forward to hearing from you!